Groups for parents, siblings and extended families.

Grieving the death of a child is a long and painful journey. Grief work is the process that involves learning to live with the emptiness, creating meaning out of the loss, and rejoining life to live more open and fully. Please come and share your journey and meet parents who have found the support, peace and understanding you are looking for.

Programs include: Education, guidance and support for those who grieve.

Women & Children's Hospital
